New York State Historic Newspapers

https://nyshistoricnewspapers.org/
Welcome!
The NYS Historic Newspapers project provides free online access to a wide range of newspapers chosen to reflect New York's unique history. To search the entire collection, use the Search Tab. Or, click on a county to search or browse geographically.

Updates
Storage upgrade coming soon requiring offline time. NEW DATES ADDED! Read more here.

Subscribe
Interested in hearing our latest news? Subscribe to our newsletter!

Click on a county to begin searching or browsing titles.

Thanks to our partners in providing materials and support for developing this site: Adirondack Museum | Farmingdale Public Library | Garden City Public Library |
Albany County, New York

Search All Albany County Titles

Search

with the words within 5 words of each other

Go Clear

From

January 01 1725

To

December 31 2016

About Albany County Titles

The Albany sentinel. (Albany [N.Y.]) 1797-1806

The Albany register. (Albany [N.Y.]) 1788-1820

Altamont enterprise and Albany County post. (Altamont, N.Y.) 1958-1993

The Altamont enterprise and Albany County post. (Altamont, N.Y.) 2006-current

The Altamont enterprise. (Altamont, N.Y.) 1983-2006

Altamont enterprise. (Altamont, N.Y.) 1892-1958

The Coeymans herald. (Coeymans, N.Y.) 1873-1907

The Enterprise. (Altamont, N.Y.) 1888-1892

Knowersville enterprise. (Knowersville, N.Y.) 1884-1888

The news-herald. (Coeymans, N.Y.) 1907-current

The Ravena news. (Ravena, N.Y.) 1897-1907
The Altamont enterprise, September 15, 1983, Page 4, Image 4

About The Altamont enterprise (Altamont, N.Y.) 1983-2006

Image provided by: Guilderland Public Library events listed above, call the PAC box office at 457-8606, 10-4, Monday-Friday.

Art Gallery
Four exhibitions will be presented during the fall semester.

Artists at Large: Photographs by Rollie McKenna, portraits and candid of major 20th century artists and poets.

CDLC card gives borrowing privileges to libraries all over the Capital District.

Community-University Day: This year it is Saturday, Oct. 22 and has a theme of Science. A formal program for the day will be demonstrations of the atmospheric science department's new satellite photo display capability.

Courses: The main function of the University is education, and, aside from hundreds of courses for regularly enrolled students, the University’s Division of Continuing Studies offers a wide array of non-credit courses, both for personal enrichment and as part of certificate programs for occupational advancement. Some of these courses have already started for the fall, but another larger number begin later in the semester. In our experience, these courses are very worthwhile and have an extra bonus of attracting an interesting clientele. The $3 million facility, which includes a new library, card from your local public library. The CDLC card gives borrowing privileges to libraries all over the Capital District.

Community-University Day: This year it is Saturday, Oct. 22 and has a theme of Science. A formal program for the day will be demonstrations of the atmospheric science department’s new satellite photo display capability. Noon to 5 p.m., free.

Courses: The main function of the University is education, and, aside from hundreds of courses for regularly enrolled students, the University’s Division of Continuing Studies offers a wide array of non-credit courses, both for personal enrichment and as part of certificate programs for occupational advancement. Some of these courses have already started for the fall, but another larger number begin later in the semester. In our experience, these courses are very worthwhile and have an extra bonus of attracting an interesting clientele. The $3 million facility, which includes a new library, card from your local public library. The CDLC card gives borrowing privileges to libraries all over the Capital District.

Community-University Day: This year it is Saturday, Oct. 22 and has a theme of Science. A formal program for the day will be demonstrations of the atmospheric science department’s new satellite photo display capability. Noon to 5 p.m., free.

Courses: The main function of the University is education, and, aside from hundreds of courses for regularly enrolled students, the University’s Division of Continuing Studies offers a wide array of non-credit courses, both for personal enrichment and as part of certificate programs for occupational advancement. Some of these courses have already started for the fall, but another larger number begin later in the semester. In our experience, these courses are very worthwhile and have an extra bonus of attracting an interesting clientele. The $3 million facility, which includes a new library, card from your local public library. The CDLC card gives borrowing privileges to libraries all over the Capital District.

Community-University Day: This year it is Saturday, Oct. 22 and has a theme of Science. A formal program for the day will be demonstrations of the atmospheric science department’s new satellite photo display capability. Noon to 5 p.m., free.

Courses: The main function of the University is education, and, aside from hundreds of courses for regularly enrolled students, the University’s Division of Continuing Studies offers a wide array of non-credit courses, both for personal enrichment and as part of certificate programs for occupational advancement. Some of these courses have already started for the fall, but another larger number begin later in the semester. In our experience, these courses are very worthwhile and have an extra bonus of attracting an interesting clientele. The $3 million facility, which includes a new library, card from your local public library. The CDLC card gives borrowing privileges to libraries all over the Capital District.

Community-University Day: This year it is Saturday, Oct. 22 and has a theme of Science. A formal program for the day will be demonstrations of the atmospheric science department’s new satellite photo display capability. Noon to 5 p.m., free.

Courses: The main function of the University is education, and, aside from hundreds of courses for regularly enrolled students, the University’s Division of Continuing Studies offers a wide array of non-credit courses, both for personal enrichment and as part of certificate programs for occupational advancement. Some of these courses have already started for the fall, but another larger number begin later in the semester. In our experience, these courses are very worthwhile and have an extra bonus of attracting an interesting clientele. The $3 million facility, which includes a new library, card from your local public library. The CDLC card gives borrowing privileges to libraries all over the Capital District.

Community-University Day: This year it is Saturday, Oct. 22 and has a theme of Science. A formal program for the day will be demonstrations of the atmospheric science department’s new satellite photo display capability. Noon to 5 p.m., free.

Courses: The main function of the University is education, and, aside from hundreds of courses for regularly enrolled students, the University’s Division of Continuing Studies offers a wide array of non-credit courses, both for personal enrichment and as part of certificate programs for occupational advancement. Some of these courses have already started for the fall, but another larger number begin later in the semester. In our experience, these courses are very worthwhile and have an extra bonus of attracting an interesting clientele. The $3 million facility, which includes a new library, card from your local public library. The CDLC card gives borrowing privileges to libraries all over the Capital District.

Community-University Day: This year it is Saturday, Oct. 22 and has a theme of Science. A formal program for the day will be demonstrations of the atmospheric science department’s new satellite photo display capability. Noon to 5 p.m., free.

Courses: The main function of the University is education, and, aside from hundreds of courses for regularly enrolled students, the University’s Division of Continuing Studies offers a wide array of non-credit courses, both for personal enrichment and as part of certificate programs for occupational advancement. Some of these courses have already started for the fall, but another larger number begin later in the semester. In our experience, these courses are very worthwhile and have an extra bonus of attracting an interesting clientele. The $3 million facility, which includes a new library, card from your local public library. The CDLC card gives borrowing privileges to libraries all over the Capital District.

Community-University Day: This year it is Saturday, Oct. 22 and has a theme of Science. A formal program for the day will be demonstrations of the atmospheric science department’s new satellite photo display capability. Noon to 5 p.m., free.

Courses: The main function of the University is education, and, aside from hundreds of courses for regularly enrolled students, the University’s Division of Continuing Studies offers a wide array of non-credit courses, both for personal enrichment and as part of certificate programs for occupational advancement. Some of these courses have already started for the fall, but another larger number begin later in the semester. In our experience, these courses are very worthwhile and have an extra bonus of attracting an interesting clientele. The $3 million facility, which includes a new library, card from your local public library. The CDLC card gives borrowing privileges to libraries all over the Capital District.

Community-University Day: This year it is Saturday, Oct. 22 and has a theme of Science. A formal program for the day will be demonstrations of the atmospheric science department’s new satellite photo display capability. Noon to 5 p.m., free.

Courses: The main function of the University is education, and, aside from hundreds of courses for regularly enrolled students, the University’s Division of Continuing Studies offers a wide array of non-credit courses, both for personal enrichment and as part of certificate programs for occupational advancement. Some of these courses have already started for the fall, but another larger number begin later in the semester. In our experience, these courses are very worthwhile and have an extra bonus of attracting an interesting clientele. The $3 million facility, which includes a new library, card from your local public library. The CDLC card gives borrowing privileges to libraries all over the Capital District.

Community-University Day: This year it is Saturday, Oct. 22 and has a theme of Science. A formal program for the day will be demonstrations of the atmospheric science department’s new satellite photo display capability. Noon to 5 p.m., free.

Courses: The main function of the University is education, and, aside from hundreds of courses for regularly enrolled students, the University’s Division of Continuing Studies offers a wide array of non-credit courses, both for personal enrichment and as part of certificate programs for occupational advancement. Some of these courses have already started for the fall, but another larger number begin later in the semester. In our experience, these courses are very worthwhile and have an extra bonus of attracting an interesting clientele. The $3 million facility, which includes a new library, card from your local public library. The CDLC card gives borrowing privileges to libraries all over the Capital District.

Community-University Day: This year it is Saturday, Oct. 22 and has a theme of Science. A formal program for the day will be demonstrations of the atmospheric science department’s new satellite photo display capability. Noon to 5 p.m., free.
Help

Video Podcasts

- How to Use the Search Menu
- Conducting a Personal Name Search
- How to Use the Results Page

Frequently Asked Questions

General Questions

- Why is the date of the newspaper I am looking for not included?
- May I suggest titles to be added to this site?
- I did a search for a name that I know is in the paper but it did not come up. Why?
- Can I download entire newspaper titles to my computer for personal research?
- Where can I see or get copies of the original newspapers?

Search Questions

- How can I perform an exact search?
- I’d like to select more than one city (or county) in my search. How can I do this?
- I can’t seem to clear my search settings after doing a search. How can I clear them?

Viewing and Printing Questions

- How can I print only the part of the newspaper page that I want?
- Can I make the newspaper page take up more of the screen?

Why is the date of the newspaper I am looking for not included?
The dates included were chosen because of the anticipated interest in the period covered, the condition of the original newspapers and the quality of the microfilm from which these images were made. Once a date range for a title was chosen, all of the filmed issues available were done. For some titles there may be missing issues or entire years that no longer exist.

May I suggest titles to be added to this site?
Yes, as long as the title was published in New York State. Email the address on the “Contact Us” section of this web